The second part includes video sequences in visible stereovision and infrared stereovision for image fusion. The third part comprises several sequences of images for pedestrian detection range estimation.

By clicking, downloading and/or using the Dataset, you, the entity that you represent and all third parties obtaining access to the Dataset through you (collectively "Licensee"), acknowledge LYNRED's complete ownership rights in the Dataset and agree to access and use the Dataset only in accordance with the present terms and conditions (hereinafter the "License").
